

On motion of Senator Broughton, House bill No. 236, "An act to repeal an act to establish a State police, and provide for the regulation and government of the same, approved July 1, 1870; also to repeal an act to amend an act to establish a State police, and provide for the regulation and government of the same, approved May 2, 1871," together with a message from the Governor vetoing the same, was taken up.

On motion of Senator Gaines, a call of the Senate was ordered.

Upon calling the roll it appeared that the Senate was full.

The bill was, upon consideration, then passed, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor, by the following two-thirds vote:

Yeas—Senators Avinger, Ball, Broughton, Cole, Dilard, Dohoney, Finlay, Flanagan, Franks, Henry, King, Pyle, Saylor, Sayers, Shelley, Swift, Word and Mr. President—18.

Nays—Senators Baker, Fountain, Gaines, Hall, Randle, Ruby, Tendick and Tracy—8.

When Senator Ford's name was called, he stated that he would vote to sustain the veto, but was paired off with Senators Latimer and Evans.
